NOT A FAITHLESS GENERATION.

As Mrs. Humphrey Ward has observed, our period has been universally touched with doubt, and yet is as sensitive to the need of faith as any that has gone before it. I have tried to indicate the origin and is significance of the prevalent doubt, and to show that out of it faith is emerging freed of impediments and legitimated to the enlightened mind. Ours is not a faithless generation, certainly not in theory. Nor is it a theoretical scepticism that I fear. The only fatal scepticism inat I fear. The only fatal scepticism inat I fear. The only fatal scepticism in the fear lest the truth be bad"; not the questioning of abstract propositions about the existence and personality of God. but the denial of His living presence in the world of physical nature and of man; that practical materialism which excludes the ministries of the ideal world, and like Ulysses in the Cyclops' cave, burns rudely out the eye of faith, so that there is no longer any beckoning spiritual vision; that derogatory dogma that the liminite Father spoke ages ago His last word of tenderness to man, and that, for the enlarging capacity and craving of the race, He has never a syllable more of answering revelation; that selfish fear lest the diving goodness and truth, in a boundless inundation, that selfish fear lest the diving goodness and truth, in a boundless inundation, that selfish fear lest the gilful barriers which our systems of the ology have presumed to build against them. Let the inundation come, and surprise and confound our petty dialectics!

"I have the greater pleasure," concluded Dr. Poteat, "in bringing this message of nincteenth century culture to you young ladies of the Woman's College, because I know that the higher life of the twentieth century will be what you as such as you determine it shall be, the standard which you set the rest of us shall acknowledge, what you require, we shall be And I get a fresh access of courage when I rem MAMMOTH SUGAR COMBINE. Not Yet Exactly in Shape, But Nearly So.

CHICAGO, June 6.-The Record to-morrow will say.

"That negotiations are in progress looking toward a mammoth sugar consolidation is now admitted by one of the men most interested. These stories have been circulated at various times, remote and recent, but nothing confirmatory has been obtainable. It is not asserted that the deal on hand at present is in tangible shape, but it is real enough to have necessituted conferences in New York, and the plans are now under consideration by the executives concerned. From widely different sources to-day came reports of the impending union of the American sugar-refining companies and the glucosesugar refining companies, with the subsequent absorption, by purchase or otherwise, of the plants owned by the Arbuckle interests and Doscher refineries, with, perhaps, other competing plants.

"I can say nothing definite at this time," said one of the head men of the recent conferences, "I am in a confidential position with reference to the matter. But I am at liberty to say that there is a good deal more in the reports of a combination of the sugar interest than is generally credited. Writes Another Farewell Manifesto.

The Men of the Island Should Get

MILITARY OCCUPATION DEPLORED

People, However, Should Ald the United States in Establishing Peace and Order-Gomes to Leave Cabo

HABANA, June 6.—General Maximo Go-mez, the former commander-in-chief of the Cuban army, issued his farewell manifesto to-day. In substance, it says: is nearly concluded. I have attempted to find a solution of questions concerning the army which I commanded during the now leaving, regretfully, to attend to ne-

"A parting word to the people for whom I have sacrificed thirty years of my life, and to my friends in the army just disbanded, which action should have been taken instantly after the removal of the bloody weight of Spain's merciless regime. We armed ourselves, and, therefore, now we no longer want soldlers, but men, for the maintenance of peace and order, which are the basis of Cuba's future welfare.
MILITARY OCCUPATION UNEXPECT-

"It is necessary to understand that the nation in this epoch, most difficult and unequalled in history, should avail itself of the opportunity to show it possesses virtues, in spite of the vices caused by Colonial Government and the harshness of warlike life. We wanted and depended upon foreign intervention to end the war. ment of our contest, and resulted in Spain's defeat. But none of us thought this extraordinary event would be followed by a military occupation of the country by our allies, who treat us as a people incapable of acting for ourselves, and who have reduced us to obedience, to submission, and to a tuttage imposed by force of circumstances. This cannot be our ultimate fate after the years of struggle, and we should aid by every pacific method in finishing the work of organization which the Americans accepted in the protocol, and which is disagreeable for them as for ourselves. This aid will prove useless without concord among all the islanders. Therefore, it is necessary to forget part disagreements, to completely unite all elements, and to organize a political party, which is needed in any country. ment of our contest, and resulted in

CUPA MUST GO TO WORK. CUPA MUST GO TO WORK.

"It is always said that countries have the government which they merit, and Cuba will have that which her herotsm entitles her to. To-day she can only have one party in Cuba, with one object—that of obtaining the aspiration of years.

"We must devote ourselves to pacific
labors, gain the respect of the world, and show that, though our war was honorable, peace must come.

must make useless by our beha "We must make useless by our behavior the presence of a strange power in the island, and must assist the Americans to complete the honorable mission they have been compelled to assume by force of circumstances. This work was not sought by those rich northerners, owners of a Continent. I think doubts and suspicions are unjust.

"We must form immediately a committee or club to be a nucleus of a government. This will serve Cuban interests purely, and act as an aid to the intervenors.

"I, as one of the first Cubaps, although one of our last soldiers, and not far from the grave, without passions or ambitions, call on you with the sincerity of a father and wrge a cessation of the superfluous discussions and the creation of parties of all kinds, which disturb the country and tend to cause anarchy. To-day we no longer have Autonomists or Conservatives, but only Cubans.

WILL LEAVE CUBA FOR AWHILE.

WILL LEAVE CUEA FOR AWHILE.

WILL LEAVE CUBA FOR AWHILE.

"My mission having ended, I will absent myself temporarily, to embrace my family, but I will return shortly to Cuba, which I love as much as my own land.

"My last words for my soldiers are that, as always, where my tent is, the Cubans have a friend.

The farewell manifesto of General Gomez is the principal topic of conversation among Americans and Cubans of all shades of politics. The Americans, for the most part, consider it an affecting address, expressing the real views of the old patriot, and also his sincers intention to retire from public life. His Cuban admirers say the address will rank among the most famous in history.

PLEA FOR SYMPATHY?

PLEA FOR SYMPATHY? PLEA FOR SYMPATHY?

His opponents, especially the members of the former Military Assembly, insist that he has no intention to retire for more than a few weeks, and that his real object is to gain public sympathy. They say, also, that Colonel Carlos Cespedes virtually writes the greater part of what Gomez issues to the public, though, in this instance, probably a third was written by Gomez himself.
